Who moved ~~My~~ Cheese

The author of "who moved by cheese" is spencer johnson.

It is a motivational and management book.

The book teaches:-

- (1) How to deal with change
- (2) why adapting is important
- (3) How fear stops success
- (4) why Quick action matters

The story uses :-

- A Cheese → Symbol of success and happiness, goal, power or thing we want.
- Maze → as a symbol of life

Sniff, Scurry, Hem and Haw are four characters that ~~live~~ live in dark, elaborate maze, each searching for their own special cheese to nourish them.

Bihull
 bihulayia

The mice, sniff and scurry, use the simple trial-and-error method to find cheese. The two little people, Hem and Haw, rely on their complex brains to develop more sophisticated strategies of finding cheese.

But due to Hem and Haw's beliefs, their emotions often take over and cloud the way they look at things making life in the maze overly complicated and challenging.

One morning, both mice and the little people locate their favorite type of cheese at the end of one of the corridors in cheese station C. Every morning after that, the mice head over there to feast, waking early each morning and following the same route, establishing a routine in the process.

In the beginning, Hem and Haw also race to cheese station C every morning. However, over time, the two little people arrive later and later, confident that the cheese will always be there.

One morning, the mice arrive at Cheese station C and notice that there is no cheese. They aren't ~~surprised~~ surprised.

Since Sniff and Scurry noticed the supply of cheese dwindling every day, the mice are prepared for the inevitable and know what to do.

To the mice, the problem and the answer are both simple. The situation at cheese station C has changed. So, Sniff and Scurry decide to change. Before long, they scurry off in search of new cheese in the maze.

Meanwhile, Hem and Haw, who have ~~filled~~ failed to notice the small changes taking place each day, arrive at cheese station C. Both refuse to accept that the cheese is gone.

The two start about the injustice of the situation and question how such a situation could have even arisen.

Haw suggests a search for new cheese, but Hem rejects his proposal.

While Hem and Haw evaluate the decision, sniff and scurry go further into the maze and discover "Cheese station N", along with the ~~the~~ biggest store of cheese the mice have ever seen.

Meanwhile, Hem and Haw grow frustrated and blame each other for their situation. Inspired by the mice, Haw again proposes a search for new cheese. However, Hem is comforted by ~~this~~ his comfortable routine and rejects idea ~~once~~ more.

After living in denial for some time, the Little people go without cheese, growing weaker from hunger with each passing day. Finally one day, Haw laughs at himself realizing that both he and Haw keep doing the same things over and over again and wonders why things don't get better.

Knowing that he is finally able to laugh at himself, let go and move on, Haw enters the maze, but not before chiseling "

If you do not change, you can become extinct" on the wall of cheese station C for his friend to consider.

During the next several days, Haw finds a little cheese here and there ~~by~~ but nothing that last very long.

Haw looks back on things and realizes that the cheese at cheese station C had not just disappeared overnight, as he had once believed. Instead the amount of cheese that had been there towards the end had been getting smaller, although he had been in denial about what was coming.

How decides he will stay more alert from now on. He expects change to happen and look for it, and will trust his basic instincts to sense when change will occur and adapt necessary.

After many empty cheese stations, How brushes aside his fears and decides to go back for Hem with the few bits of new cheese he was found. Hem declines his friend's gesture to leave, ~~stating~~ stating "I don't think I would like new cheese. It's not what I'm used to. I want my own cheese back, and I'm not going to change until I get what I want."

During the next several days, How finds a little cheese here and.

One day, Hem discovers cheese station N, abundant with cheese, including some new variety and sees his old friend sniff and scurry.

 After eating, Mem considers returning to Cheese station C to see if he can show How how to get out of his predicament but he had already tried to get his friend to change. Mem realizes that how has to find his own ways beyond his comfort and past his fears. No one else could do it for him or talk him into it.
 He somehow has to see the advantages of changing himself.
